

DISTRICT TARS NOW SAILING OCEAN BLUE

Battleship Rhode Island Begins
Second Leg of Cruise to Bermuda.

LEWES, Del., July 8 (on board battleship Rhode Island).—The first leg of the cruise to Bermuda is ended and not a recruit-seaman is uncertain about the enjoyment he will have before the two weeks trip is over. The members of the Naval Battalion of the District of Columbia, are not veteran sailors by any means, but the 160 miles from Hampton Roads to Lewes were covered in a manner that convinced their shipmates that the trip down the Potomac Sunday night from Washington was enough to put them securely on their sea legs.

The District Reserves are already into the thick of the work and on board ship. Led by Commander Joseph A. Dempf, the militiamen made up their minds when they left the Seventh street wharf to be regular tars from the get-away, and thus far not a one has dropped himself over the side and caused his attention of the cruise to be beneath. Commander Dempf has been mumbling strange nautical-sounding phrases to his men since Sunday, and they seem to understand what it's all about. With the regulars on board the Rhode Island, the crew is made up of the language of the deep has made a favorable impression. The District Reserves are expected to be called upon to do much of the really difficult work on the cruise to Bermuda, while the North Carolina, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania reserves will be called upon to devote their time to the seamanship of the Capital tars, and doing the less scientific tasks, such as scouring the brass and scrubbing the deck of the huge ship.

In Charge of Engines.
The engineers' division of the District Militia, forty-six in number, has taken charge of the engines of the Rhode Island and with the aid of members of the New Jersey engineers, the Washington sailors expect to have the very same kind of deck activities the entire trip. The work in the engine rooms is not new to the District men, as most of them help to build the very same kind of engines used on the Rhode Island at the Washington Navy Yard. Some of the more experienced members of the battalion are stokers par-excellence, while there isn't an oil-cup on the giant power machines that hasn't gotten acquainted with at least one member of the engineers' division. The acquaintance of several guns has already been made by members of the District battalion's gunners, and the regulars in charge the instructing the District men in the mechanism of the death implements, preparatory to the practice off Tangier Sound later in the week.

Off On Shore Leave.
The Pennsylvania and New Jersey reserves came aboard here yesterday, and the regulars left the Rhode Island at the same time to enjoy two weeks' shore leave. There remains enough real sailors to see that the reserves act according to all the rules of seamanship, but the regulars will divide their time in basing the militiamen and then watching the more sporty spots by entertainment at night.

Home Rule Mass Meeting
To Be Held This Evening
Resolutions indorsing the action of the jury in ousting Commissioner O. P. Newman, and favoring the selection of a business man as a member of the Board of Commissioners, are expected to be passed at a home-rule mass meeting tonight in Moore's Garden Theater, in Ninth street northwest.

Militants Make Attempt On Burns' Birthplace
ATL, Scotland, July 8.—Robert Burns' humble birthplace here was the scene of a suffragette attack, which however, was nipped in the bud.

Will Attend Launching.
Secretary Daniels will leave Washington Friday to attend the launching of the battleship Nevada, which will occur at 1 o'clock next Saturday at the Fall River Shipbuilding Company's yard, Quincy, Mass. He will leave Quincy that afternoon for Newport R. I. where he will address the war college there on Monday and will return to Washington Monday night.

His Only Suit, Stolen.
NEW YORK, July 8.—Ellis Laurie, actor, pleaded with a judge not to transform him into a "September Morn" by taking away an alleged stolen suit—the one Ellis had on his back.

Three Die in Submarine.
PARIS, July 8.—Three members of the crew of the French submarine Calypso perished when the craft was sunk during maneuvers. Earlier reports declared that all members of the crew were rescued.

George Fred Williams, Massachusetts knight errant diplomat, will continue his fight for the independence of Albania.

One-third of Workers Are Farm Employes

One-third of the workers of the United States when the census of 1910 was taken were employed on farms, according to a bulletin on occupation statistics just issued by the Census Bureau. An interesting feature of the report is that while only 38,157,336 persons, or 53.3 per cent of the population ten years of age and over, were employed in gainful occupations, the proportion of working population showed a big increase over earlier census computations.

The proportion of the population engaged in gainful occupations increased gradually from 47.3 per cent in 1880 to 53.3 per cent in 1910. In the male population, ten years of age and over, the proportion gainfully employed increased gradually from 78.1 per cent in 1880 to 81.3 per cent in 1910, while the proportion of gainful workers in the female population, ten years of age and over, increased from 14.2 per cent to 23.4 per cent.

Giving statistics by States the Census Bureau shows that Iowa had the smallest percentage of its population employed. Iowa's percentage was 46.9, with Kansas, Nebraska, Utah and Indiana, following. The States having the largest proportions of workers were North Carolina, 60 per cent; Georgia, 61.5; Alabama, 64.7; South Carolina, 67.6, and Mississippi, 68 per cent.

Agriculture gave employment to 36.1 per cent of the workers, and manufacturing industries 23.1. These two classes of occupations thus employed three-fifths of the workers. Domestic and personal service was the only general division of occupation in which the women outnumbered the men, though in professional service there were four women employed for every five men, the number being increased by the large body of women teachers and the gains in the ranks of professional women.
